Hugo is the fastest tool of its kind. At <1 ms per page, the average site builds in less than a second.

Robust Content Management

Flexibility rules. Hugo is a content strategist's dream.

Hugo supports unlimited content types, taxonomies, menus, dynamic API-driven content, and more, all without plugins.

Shortcodes

Hugo's shortcodes are Markdown's hidden superpower.

We love the beautiful simplicity of markdown's syntax, but there are times when we want more flexibility. Hugo shortcodes allow for both beauty and flexibility.

Built-in Templates

Hugo has common patterns to get your work done quickly.

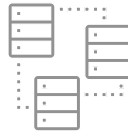

done.

Multilingual and i18n

Polyglot baked in.

Hugo provides full i18n support for multi-language sites with the same straightforward development experience Hugo users love in single-language sites.

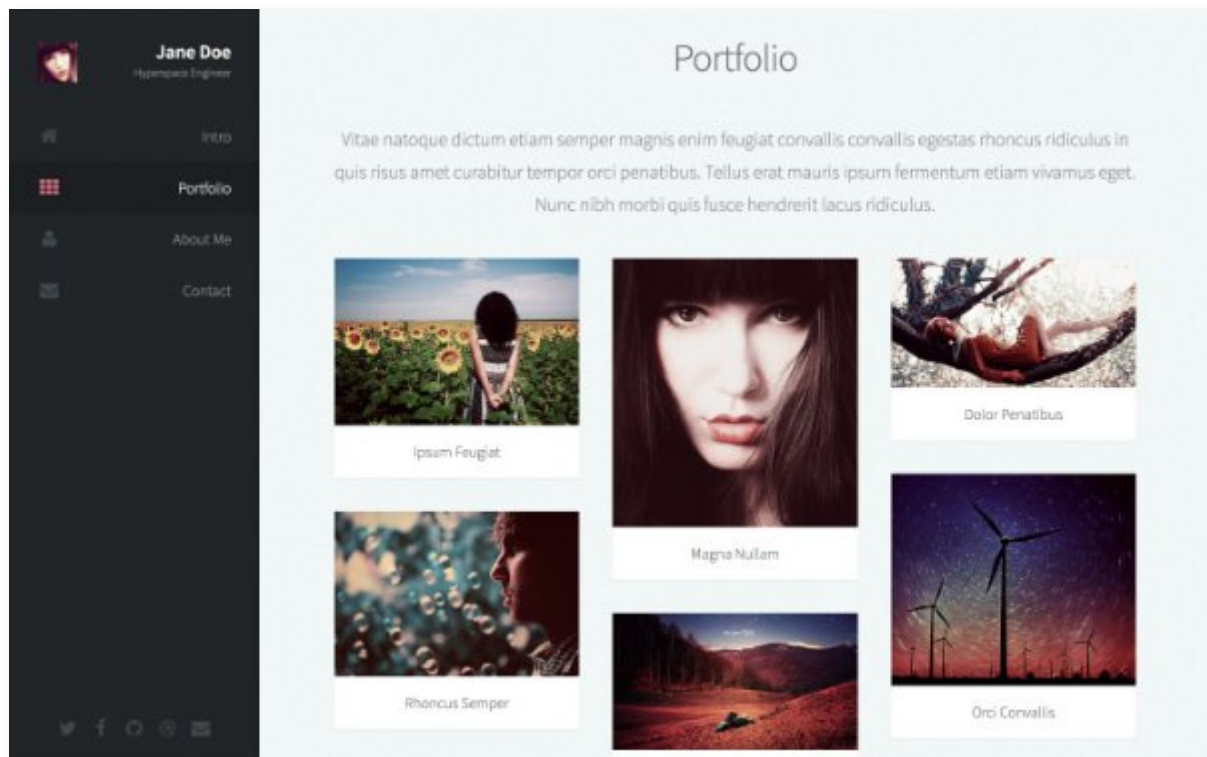

Custom Outputs

HTML not enough?

Hugo allows you to output your content in multiple formats, including JSON or AMP, and makes it easy to create your own.

See what others are saying about Hugo...

Working with @GoHugoIO is such a joy. Having worked with #Jekyll in the past, the near instant preview is a big win! Did not expect this to make such a huge difference.

— Heinrich Hartmann (@heinrichhartman) November 12, 2019

Can't overstate how much I enjoy @GoHugoIO. My site is relatively small, but 18 ms to build the whole thing made template development and proofing a breeze.

— Joshua Steven (@jscarto) September 12, 2018

Hugo is really, really incredible... Now does so fast can be a static site generator... Amazing open-source project.

— Jens Munch (@jensamunch) January 3, 2018

I fear @GoHugoIO v0.22 might be so fast it creates a code vortex that time-warps me back to a time I used Wordpress.
